1/2/71

Dear Tom,

The last two times I was in Washington I phoned but you were not available. I will be there again this coming week but do not expect to have any free time.

One of the things I'd planed to do is show you the enclosed and tell you what I think they and what is related mean.

The Johnson letter of 12/8 is hardly a reflection of the file or the correspondence. It mentions only the last of the reasons given me.

You can form your own opinion about the rest of it and of any significance this thing may or may not have for you.

If you read the last sentence and compare it with the (sorry, poor) copies of the two Burke Marshall letters to me, perhaps you will agree with me that this sentence is at best a self-serving gratuity. I do not think he intended writing or asking Marshall, whose two letters are answer enough. Srchives had copies of them when this was written me. In any event, there has been no word to me since.

If you want to copy the enclosed, please do. I'd appreciate their return at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
